Headteacher's Update

Dear Parents/Carers,

We always enjoy seeing the children from OLSG and this week we were delighted to welcome them to the Film and Media Department. As part of their study of World War 2, Year 6 pupils visited Holy Family on Wednesday to make digital propaganda posters. A big thank you to Mrs Farrugia, Associate Headteacher and Head of Media, for organising this and to Joseph Bearfield and Maria Silvani in Year 12, who helped the children with producing their digital posters.

Meanwhile Mrs Scullion took some Year 10 English students to visit the national Guardian newspaper - they had a wonderful time and got to make their own front page headlines!

After-school and Saturday intervention sessions have been taking place for our GCSE students - if your child is in Year 11 they should be regularly checking their Google classroom as well as the Year 11 noticeboard on the upper site for details. After the half term break, there will be a further set of pre-public examinations to check the progress of Year 11 students following the mocks. Students who did not achieve as well as they hoped in the mock exams must ensure that they are taking advantage of all extra support being put in place by departments and their Head of Year, so that they can maximise their grades in this next round of exams and be confident in the summer.

Finally, good luck to all of the students who took part in the UK Maths Challenge - you can see a photo of them at the top of this newsletter - we look forward to receiving their results.

Thank you all, as ever, for your ongoing support and prayers.
God bless,
Mrs Laws
