HEADTEACHER'S MESSAGE

This week has been amazing from the point of view of the weather. We have seen record temperatures in London and elsewhere in and blue skies in February are always welcome. However, the fluctuations we are seeing in the weather would seem to be further evidence, were it needed, of global warming. This week has also seen moorland and forest fires in parts of the UK which are usually a summer phenomenon. Something would seem to be going on with our climate.

It's very important that we all do what we can to look after the planet and to use the resources we enjoy on earth in a responsible and sustainable manner. Sometimes this is not easy. To source paper from sustainable forest sources for the school is very much more expensive than to import paper produced in Brazil for example. While we would love to be able to use sustainably sourced paper we are caught in the difficult position of having limited resources (schools as you know are not properly funded at the moment as it is) and we are not in a position to buy the more expensive but sustainably sourced paper at the moment.

SACRE Meeting

As a Catholic School, our RE curriculum is determined by the Diocese of Brentwood, whereas that of non-Catholic schools is subject to regulation by the The Standing Advisory Council for Religious Education (SACRE). Each borough has a SACRE group and we participate in our Waltham Forest branch. This week we hosted a meeting of students from both Holy Family and Eden Girls School, a local muslim-faith school. Fr Niall spoke to the students about his work as a priest, including his time as chaplain in Chelmsford prison, and the students were able to ask questions and to talk to each other about their different faith experiences.

Lent

Ash Wednesday is next Wednesday 6th March. This marks the beginning of the season of Lent and the commemoration of the 40 days which Jesus spent fasting in the desert. It is one of the most important times in the calendar of the Church. We will be holding services and distributing ashes on both sites this coming Wednesday.

LGBT month

February has been LGBT history month, a time to recognise the contribution of LGBT people to the history of the UK and of the world. LGBT people often face considerable prejudice and discrimination in society and the activities and assemblies we presented to students focused on the need to treat everyone fairly, respectfully and with recognition that all of us are children of God. I'm pleased to say the students responded extremely positively to this and we want to ensure that no-one at Holy Family experiences discrimination or intolerance on account of their sexuality. We also received a wonderful message of support from the American Jesuit priest Fr James Martin who encouraged us to "Keep up your wonderful work and never doubt that it's God's work that you're doing whenever you welcome someone who feels in any way excluded"

Peace,

Father James Martin, SJ

Governing Body meeting

We held our latest Governing Body meeting on Thursday evening of this week. One of the issues for discussion was whether the uniform should change to allow girls to wear trousers. This has been brought up by the student leadership team on a number of occasions. More feedback in next week's edition of Family Matters.

Parents' surgery

Parents' surgery is every Thursday from 4pm to 5pm on the Walthamstow site. If ever I am unavailable, a member of the senior team substitutes for me.

Please continue to remember us in your prayers.

YEAR 11 FUTURE ASPIRATIONS

CHUK MADUAWE 11S

Reporter Chloe Contaldo is on the hunt to find out what's next for our year 11 students...

Do you have any short-term aspirations for the future?

As I spoke to Chuk, I found out about his plans for the near future, such as his Sixth Form choices and goals in terms of his GCSEs. "In terms of my GCSEs, I would like to reach my full potential and achieve all grade eights and nines in order to help me in my future and enable me to study the certain subjects I would like to study further on. For my A-levels, I would love to study Maths, Economics and Business due to the strong interests I have in all three of them. Maths is a subject I want to study because in my opinion it is very logical, and I am able to comprehend it in a successful way. Furthermore, I would like to take an A-level in Economics, because I am very interested in how the financial status works in this country, and would like to discover more about it. Finally, Business is a subject I am taking, because it branches off economics, and will help me greatly with the future career I have in mind. I would also like to do an EPQ based off the history of medicine, because I find it a topic of great interest.

What are your personal goals and aspirations for the future?

Speaking to Chuk enabled me to discover his possible future achievements and personal goals in which he holds. "Something which I have always wanted to do is help others in poorer countries by doing things such as investing in various education systems in order to give to those that are in search for a better and clearer future. In addition, I would like to have a family, as well as give back to my own family because I believe that family extremely important. Additionally, I would like to become an investment banker associate, and soon work my way up into becoming a manager or director for a company (for example, like J.P Morgan.)

Where do you see yourself in five years' time?

Going to study at university has always been something I have aimed to achieve for. Therefore, in five years' time I would like to pursue this aim by studying a masters on Economics and Mathematics and the London School of Economics because it will help me with my future career.

SOCIAL MEDIA GUIDE

AGE RESTRICTION
13+

Twitter is a social networking site where users can post 'tweets' or short messages, photos and videos publicly. They can also share 'tweets' written by others to their followers. Twitter is popular with young people, as it allows them to interact with celebrities, stay up to date with news, trends and current social relevance.

What parents need to know about

Twitter

TWITTER TROLLS

A 'troll' is somebody who deliberately posts negative or offensive comments online in a bid to provoke an individual for a reaction. Trolling, can include bullying, harassment, stalking, virtual mobbing and much more; it is very common on Twitter. The motive may be that the 'troll' wishes to promote an opinion or make people laugh, however, the pragmatics of what they post could be much more damaging, posting anything from racial, homophobic to sexist hate. Trolling can lead to devastating consequences for some victims.

INAPPROPRIATE CONTENT

Twitter gives users the opportunity and freedom to post their personal thoughts and opinions, meaning they can pretty much post anything they want despite restrictions on the platform. Swearing and inappropriate language is allowed if it does not violate the rules. If your child sees any inappropriate content, they might feel the need to replicate it at home or amongst their peers. Additionally, there are also a number of unofficial pornographic profiles on the platform that can easily be found and viewed without restrictions.

FAKE PROFILES

Fake Twitter accounts are made to impersonate a person, celebrity or public figure. As the accounts are not endorsed by the person they are pretending to be, they can often be used to scam or take advantage of young people who think that they're the real deal.

FAKE NEWS

The speed in which 'tweets' are shared on Twitter can be unbelievably fast, meaning that fake news can often be circulated across the platform very quickly. Fake news articles and posts can often be harmful and upsetting to young people and those associated with the fake news. In addition to this, it's very easy for people to quickly and unexpectedly retweet a tweet posted by your child, meaning there is no going back.

HIJACKED HASHTAGS

One of the most commonly used aspects of Twitter is the hashtag (#) - these allow users to easily search for specific trends, topics or subjects. However, due to the astronomical number of Twitter users, many hashtags can have 'different' intentions. One person may use a seemingly innocent hashtag, and before you know it, hundreds of people could be using the same hashtag for something inappropriate or dangerous that your child shouldn't be exposed to. This is common with 'trending' tweets, as people know that their tweet will be seen by a greater number of people.

MEMES NORMALISING RACISM, SEXISM AND HOMOPHOBIA

Twitter is a popular platform for sharing internet memes, helping to make concepts or ideas go viral across the internet. However, despite most memes being innocent and harmless, some often include sexist, racist or homophobic messages. Although they are typically sent as a joke, this type of content is contributing to the normalisation of topics including racism, sexism and homophobia.

PROPAGANDA, EXTREMISM & RADICALISATION

Social media offers a continuous stream of real-time coverage of extremist activity. Twitter is one of the many platforms that is exploited by extremist groups to help promote violence, radicalise and recruit people to support their cause. These groups cleverly target vulnerable victims, often young people, and find a way to manipulate them into supporting their beliefs.

EVERYONE HAS ACCESS

Twitter has over 335 million monthly active users across all age groups. When a user signs up, tweets are public by default, meaning anyone can view and interact with posts instantly. Your child may change their mind about a tweet they have posted but even if they delete it, there's always a chance that someone can screenshot, retweet it or post it onto another platform.

Top Tips for Parents

CHECK ACCOUNT SETTINGS

We strongly advise that you thoroughly check your child's privacy settings. To take away some of the fear of your child's tweets being shared by anyone, you can always make their account protected. This means that anyone who wants to view what your child has posted, it requires approval from them. In addition to this, you can change the settings so that they cannot receive 'direct' messages from anyone on the platform and that their location is not shared.

BLOCKING & REPORTING

If a particular account is causing your child trouble on Twitter, whether it's cyberbullying or upsetting content, you can simply block and report them. Blocking them will help to prevent them from viewing, messaging or following your child, and vice versa. Reporting an account will alert Twitter to investigate the profile.

MUTING ACCOUNTS

The 'mute' feature allows your child to remove an account's tweets from their timeline without unfollowing or blocking them. This means your child will stop getting notifications about a particular conversation but can still view it in their timeline. This can be useful if they are friends with someone but don't really like what they share. The other user will not know that they have been banned.

TWITTER TROLLS & THE LAW

From 2016, the CPS were able to exercise new laws that could see those who create 'derogatory hashtags' or post 'humiliating' photoshopped images jailed. They also announced the launch of a hate crime consultation, issuing a series of public policy statements centred on combating crimes against disabled people, as well as racial, religious, homophobic and transphobic hate crime. It's important your child knows about building a positive online reputation, as well as showing respect for others online and offline.

SENSITIVE CONTENT

By default, if Twitter has found a tweet that 'may contain sensitive content', Twitter will hide the content in the news feed and you will be shown a warning that states the content is sensitive. You then have the option to view it or not. This gives a chance for you to moderate potentially harmful images/videos before your child sees them. Unfortunately, some content may slip through the cracks and will be shown in the news feed. So, if you do see any sensitive content, you can report it. Twitter should then inspect the tweet and decide whether they deem it to be 'sensitive'.

MUTE HASHTAGS & PHRASES

Within the account settings, you have the ability to block certain words, hashtags or phrases from your child's timeline or notifications (e.g. swear words, inappropriate phrases, emojis, etc.).

TURN OFF VIDEO AUTOPLAY

'Autoplay' is a feature that automatically starts playing a new video seconds after another one ends on the platform. To avoid your child going from watching something innocent and harmless to something much more graphic or disturbing, you can turn this feature off in the settings and easily moderate the videos your child watches before they see them.

CONVERSATION & MONITORING

We always promote that you have regular open conversation with your child about their online activity, ensuring that they understand what healthy relationships are, what respect is, and how to be sensitive towards others' feelings. It's also important to monitor what they're doing online, including what they use the platform for, who they are talking to, and if they are viewing/taking part in anything that they shouldn't be. Discuss the dangers of the online world, such as fake news and online bullying - why do people involve themselves in these activities and what your child can do to prevent them.

TWITTER LISTS

Twitter lists allow your child to create other feeds besides the main timeline that only include certain accounts - this is a great way to segment followers based on common topics and interests.

MRS. GRIERSON

Fairtrade Fortnight takes place between February 25 and March 8.

Despite working hard to grow the food we eat every day, many farmers and workers in developing countries don't earn enough to know where their families' next meal is coming from. Fairtrade works to change this, and where producers are able to sell enough of their produce on Fairtrade terms, it can make a life-changing difference. London is a Fairtrade city, and the London Borough of Waltham Forest is a Fairtrade borough

Assemblies have been held this week reminding students of the benefits of Fairtrade and to look out for the Fairtrade mark when shopping, meaning that we can enjoy good food, good products and help change lives.

Creator God,

You created a beautiful world for all your children.

As we taste and smell the fruits of this creation help us to remember those who farm the land to grow them.

Help us live in a partnership of love and support with those who produce our food and drink so that we might enable others to feed their families

and create a sustainable future.

Amen

Ash Wednesday (6th March) is the start of the season of Lent where we prepare for the forthcoming feast of Easter. All students will have an opportunity to attend a Liturgy of the Word and distribution of ashes.

During Lent we are encouraged to fast and to think of others – the main principle behind this is to move away from being self-centred to being centred on others. The giving up of sweets and giving money to the poor is a way of fulfilling this, however, doing something for someone else that is at a personal cost, such as tidying a room or helping out at home, can also fulfil this.

Above all, Lent is a time that we can all look at our lives and reflect on our relationship with a forgiving God. There will be the opportunity for students and staff to receive the sacrament of reconciliation during school time.

A note from Our Lady & St George Parish

Concerned for the safety and wellbeing of our young people? Not enough being done for youth in our parish? Courtyard is an exciting project already supporting parishes in north London to reach out and accompany young people. Courtyard is ready to come to Walthamstow – on Wednesday, 13th March at 7.30pm in the parish hall you can hear the courtyard story and how it can work for us. Our youth face a crisis around gangs, violence, and so much more, yet as parish communities we do very little. The meeting on 13th March is important don't miss it – for more details phone Paul Dowling 07962406134

SACRE Event

On Thursday 27th February we welcomed guests to our school to celebrate the launch of Waltham Forest Student SACRE. Our year 8 students were joined by staff and students from Eden Girl's school, Mrs Clinton (Newham Religious Education Advisor), Ms McFadyen (Waltham Forest LA), Fr Niall, Rehana Talaimojeh and Ruth Kaufman.

There are five aims of this project. We hope to give a place and time for young people to think about moral and religious issues, to present young people's perspectives on religious and spiritual issues back to schools, Waltham Forest SACRE and faith groups, to provide an opportunity for young people to discuss religious and spiritual issues that matter to them, to provide leadership training to students, and to help young people develop links with local faith communities and initiative

We shared a lunch together

Hello from the Headteacher

The winning three!

Odd one out

People Bingo

The students spent the early afternoon sharing lunch and getting to know each other. Fr Niall shared his favourite scriptures, calling each of us to love ourselves as much as we would love a friend or neighbour, as well as telling us about St Francis of Assisi who led his life as a role model a living witness of faith.

Father Niall answering questions

Talking with Ruth

Next the students broke into two groups to listen to our other speakers. Rehana is muslim and also a teacher. She shared insights into how people are called to treat each other in her faith. Ruth is a humanist. For many of our students it was their first time to speak to a humanist and they thoroughly enjoyed the experience.

To finish the afternoon students reflected on all they learned, looking at what was the same, similar and different between the guest speakers.

We are very grateful to all who could join us and look forward to the next meeting in April.

Talking with Rehana

Final words!

Healthy Eating Tips for Teens

Skipping breakfast will not make you lose weight. Breakfast boosts energy levels!!!

Eat three meals a day – make sure each meal includes at least one portion of fruit and vegetables. The more colourful your plate, the better it is for you. Eat at least five portions of fruit and vegetables every day.

Boost your iron – almost 50% of teenage girls do not get enough iron in their diet. Sources of iron include:

- Red meat and liver
- Wholegrains (eg bagels!)
- Iron fortified breakfast cereals
- Dark green vegetables
- Beans
- Dried fruits and seeds
