Quotation of the week

"Never be limited by other people's limited imaginations."
—Dr. Mae Jemison, first African-American female astronaut

Black History Month

For many years now the month of October has been designated as Black History Month. I spoke to the students in assembly about Black British history and about the fact that Black History should not be seen as something only studied in October but is integral to the study of history and the study of all subjects, all year round.

Here at Holy Family we have had a focus on what is called 'decolonising the curriculum' and ensuring that what we teach and how we teach is inclusive of all our communities. There has been progress in this regard but there is still work to be done. For example, the history department reviewed the content that they teach and teach units that focus on black British history, the English Department looked at the texts that they choose to study to ensure that diverse authors form part of the course, while in the art department there has been a review of the artists that are taught and discussed in lessons to ensure that artists of different backgrounds are studied. The Catholic Church in Europe is still very much dominated by images of western art and the portrayal of religious figures as white people, for example. All our Heads of Department have done work on reviewing their curriculum content and this is an on-going process. I would be very keen to hear any feedback from parents/carers about Black History Month and about the school's approach to the curriculum. Some online resources relating to Black History can be found below:

Parents' Surgery

Parents' Surgery has resumed as a face to face service. If you have anything you wish to discuss with me as the headteacher you can see me between 4pm and 5pm on Thursday afternoons on the Walthamstow House site. You can call the office and book a time if you wish, or turn up without an appointment. If you prefer, you can also make a virtual appointment with me.

Thank you for your support of our school community. We are here to serve your child and do our best for them.

Please continue to remember us in your prayers.

HISTORICAL PERSON IN FOCUS

DR MAE C. JEMISON

DOCTOR, ENGINEER & ASTRONAUT

BORN OCTOBER 17, 1956

Dr. Mae C. Jemison is the first Black American woman to go to space. She was part of the STS-47 crew as a science mission specialist. On September 12, 1992, Dr. Jemison went to space on board the Endeavor.

It took two tries for Dr. Jemison to get into the NASA astronaut program.

Dr. Jemison speaks fluent Russian, Japanese, and Swahili.

Dr. Jemison is a fan of science fiction. She considers the original Star Trek series as one of her inspirations. Years later, appeared as a lieutenant in an episode of Star Trek: The Next Generation. This made her the first real astronaut to appear on the show.

As a child, Dr. Jemison loved both dance and science. She graduated from Stanford University with multiple degrees in Chemical Engineering, African and African-American studies. She also has a medical degree from Cornell Medical School.

Chaplaincy Corner

It's been some time since we have been able to celebrate a school House Day in school. So it was lovely to finally gather together last Thursday to celebrate the Feast of St Philomena, whose actual Feast Day is 11 August. Years 7 – 13 students from House P and Ph joined the parish of Our Lady & St George for Mass, celebrated by Fr Michael.

St Philomena is the patron saint of young people, and Fr Michael spoke about his faith journey to Priesthood, beginning from his time at Walsingham House with the Brentwood Catholic Youth Service and a particular trip to Lourdes with HCPT when he was 18.

Later in the day we all had lunch together and were treated to an ice cream, thanks to the Friends of Holy Family.

St Philomena, you are the patron for the young – we pray for all the students of our school and young people everywhere.

May they grow in faith and love of God and be beacons of hope to our world today. For doctors, healthcare professionals, social workers and teachers, that they may deal gently and kindly with those young people who are struggling and need help.

Amen

Chaplaincy Corner

Our Wiseman Liturgy Leaders held their first meeting this week.

Their first responsibility is to put together a prayer table before each assembly, changing with the liturgical seasons, themes of the month etc.

The candle is a reminder that Jesus is the Light of the World; the Crucifix to keep Christ in the centre of our thoughts, a reminder of God's sacrifice of his only Son for our salvation; and an icon of the Holy Family.

Friday 1 October is CAFOD Fast Day. This year we are finding out about communities who are protecting the Amazon rainforest. The Amazon rainforest stretches across nine countries and the rainforest helps keep the planet cool and brings rain to grow crops. The Amazon is important for everyone, for the whole world. But around the world, not just the Amazon, communities are being destroyed by fires, floods, hurricanes and droughts. We need to take action to protect creation. God gave the Earth for everyone to share. Like every family, our global family has to work together to look after our home.

*Loving God,
we think of our neighbours, near and far,
who are hardest hit by the climate crisis.
We pray we may share generously all you have given us.
Help us to work together to build a brighter,
more sustainable world,
where everyone can live life to the full.
Amen.*

1st October is also the National Day of Nigeria, marking its independence from British rule on this day in 1960.

Did you know, St Patrick is the Patron Saint of Nigeria and Guinness stout is the second most popular beer in the country!

Blessings, Mrs Grierson, Chaplain

Young Poland

An Arts and Crafts Movement (1890 - 1918)

Young Poland: An Arts and Crafts Movement (1890 – 1918) is the first major exhibition to explore the decorative arts and architecture of Young Poland (Młoda Polska), an extraordinary cultural movement that flourished in response to Poland's invasion and occupation by foreign powers.

Originating in Kraków and the nearby village of Zakopane at the foot of the Tatra Mountains, Young Poland sought inspiration in local folk traditions, wildlife and craftsmanship while collapsing the distinction between the fine and applied arts. Developing themes explored in a critically acclaimed book by its curators (Lund Humphries, 2020), the exhibition is the first in the world to position Young Poland as an Arts & Crafts movement, revealing strong stylistic and philosophical affinities with the work of William Morris and John Ruskin.

From furniture to Christmas decorations, intricate textiles to delicate paper cuttings, this landmark survey spans five galleries and brings together over 150 works, most of which have never travelled outside of Poland. Young Poland: An Arts and Crafts Movement (1890 – 1918) examines the ideas that propelled the movement and introduces the artists, designers and craftspeople whose decorative schemes and objects came to define it.

Artists featured in the exhibition include Józef Czajkowski, Zdzisław Gedliczka, Wojciech Jastrzębowski, Karol Kłosowski, Józefa Kogut, Bonawentura Lenart, Jacek Malczewski, Jan Matejko, Józef Mehoffer, Maria Pawlikowska-Jasnorzewska, Henryk Uziębło, Stanisław Wyspiański and Stanisław Witkiewicz.

Exhibition organised in partnership with the National Museum in Kraków and the Polish Cultural Institute, London. Co-financed by the Polish Minister of Culture, National Heritage and Sport within the framework of the Inspiring Culture Programme.

Fractured Glass by Kevin Nobrega

Irreversible cracks,
Travelling through the narrow layer of glass.
Ever so close to shattering,
As the sheening mirror...
Glimmered in the dim light.
Fissures engraved,
Within the reflective matter
As the incoming danger grew closer.
Fragile like any other,
And entrancing with its spell.
A simple trick hidden,
Under the frail substance...
As the fractures soon reached the end-
Of their journey-
Shards of glass shattering
And flying across the room.
Blood spilled and dripped
Against the serrated glass
As the untouched mirror was no more.....

TIGER by Harshan

In the wilting grass the tiger lays
Alert, crouched spying his prey
Deer, playful banquet laid bare.
Scent of death hangs in the air
